Wall Street Sentiment Bullish—Lively Day on Local Exchange—Gas Rights Higher TOOK FATHER JOHN'S

EASY MONEY GIVES COURAGE TO BUYERS

Comcission Houses Recommend Purchase of Shares on the Declines.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18 .- Traders were disposed to wait and watch, the fregularity and the evident manipulation being small inducement to irregularity and the evident manipulation being small inducement to operations, especially an advancing prices. The trend of the gossip is bullish, the easier money conditions furnishing the sinews for the manipulators to still further press for advantage. They find it rather difficult to distribute securities, as any movement in this direction is more or less quickly detected. Commission houses advise the purchase of stocks on declines, and recommend good railroad stocks, a continuance of whose present dividends is not questioned, and good industrials that are selling at an attractive price. Usually this advice ends with the assertion that the next movement will be on an advancing scale. But the manner in which the market dips and rises is nerve racking, sufficiently so to make the taking of chances less inviting than with a market moving on with a reasonably steady keel.

Some predictions of a lower bank rate in London next week, but this is hardly within the range of probabilities.

The list was higher, almost without exception, this after a slight trend toward lower figures at the immediate opening. The leaders, Union Pacific, and Reading, made nearly a point advance. Elsewhere the betterment was less marked. Steel rose ½, Southern Pacific ¼, New York Central, St. Paul, and many minor stocks ½ point on the average. Metal stocks did about the same.

From the high there were fractional reactions, but nothing that looked like weakness.

weakness.

During the noon hour the market gained fresh strength with takers more active. Prices advanced to the highest point of the day, making net gains of 1½ on Reading, ¾ on Union Pacific, and ¾ of a point on Steel common. Other stocks advanced slightly, but the bulk of the trading was confined to the lead-

MEDICINE FOR COLD

Chicago Girl Says, "It Made Me Feel

Little Elizabeth Nelson, who lives at 3836 Nor h Whipple street, Chicago, Ill., in telling of her experience with Father John's Medicine, says: "I took the medicine for a bad cold. It made me feel fine."

The reason why Father John's Medicine cures colds is because it gives strength to the weakened system, which enables it to resist the attacks of disease. Thus the natural health and strength is brought back. Father to be made to the strength is brought back. Father to be made to the strength is brought back. Father to the best of my knowledge and belief.
